Short Stories OF THE TOWN

Some Pie Artist.

It now develops that Commissioner Jim Robinson is not only one who is loaded with stories of gastronomic feats of wonder. A young lady stenographer, connected with the department of justice, now comes to the front with an unqualified statement that she can, any day in any week, and at any time during the day, devour, consume, remove from sight one and one-half pumpkin pies at a single seance.

Report of Disturbance Denied.

The rumor which has, through some means gained currency, that the... pet in the mayor's office disturbed the deliberations of the city council at its meeting last night, is indignantly denied by the greater part of the city hall family. Those who are on the inside aver the carpet was securely locked in the mayor's office and that the noises heard were those of a back-firing and badly behaved motorcycle and the rattle of a street car motor-man's gong.

Soon Pay for the Truck.

It has been suggested, so averment at the city hall says, that the city go ahead and buy the auto trucks and engines and all other things needed by the fire boys and then turn the payment over to the police department and the mayor. With the police department, assisted by the sheriff's force, to make the arrests and the mayor to assess the fines, the city hall boosters think the cost of the machinery would be raised within a reasonably short space of time.

Thinks He is a Dray.

Just because he has a half bushel or so of variegated apples, Ben Davis, Winesaps, Brother Jonathans, riel-flowers, etc., a gentleman deputy over at the court house thinks it a shame that one of the lady stenographs, with offices on the second floor should expect him to "tote" an apple up the winding stair every time her appetite calls for fruit amusements. Mr. Cox says he thinks it enough to have to negotiate for the apples on a long time basis without having to deliver them on the top floor of the edifice of justice.

Cantata Next Week.

"Ruth, the Meabittess," a dramatic cantata telling the beautiful story of the Old Testament, will be presented by the MacDowell club Friday evening, November 5, at 8:30 o'clock at the college auditorium. The cast will include some of the best vocalists of the city, and will be led by Miss Caroline Porter of the O. C. W., who will sing the part of Naomi, Miss Hazel Canfield of El Reno, will take the title role, and Miss Fredda Decker, the part of Orpah. The cantata will be of interest to Bible students and musicians alike, as the story is enhanced by the majestic splendor of the musical setting.

WASHINGTON AND LEE INVADE THE WEST.

By United Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 29.—A comparative dope link connecting eastern football teams with the eleven of the Western Conference will be hammered out tomorrow when Washington and Lee meets Indiana here. The game is the only intersectional game by a conference team this season.

FOR INDIGESTION.

Never take pepsin and preparations containing pepsin or other digestive ferments for indigestion, as the more you take the more you will have to take. What is needed is a tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets that will enable the stomach to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv. d&w

Trend of Trading Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Reports of the resignation of the French Premier had a bearish effect today on wheat. Talk of removing the Canadian duty acted also as a handicap on the bulls. Besides, the weather remained favorable in the northwest and continued to bring about large receipts. Opening prices which varied from unchanged prices to 1/4c to 3/8c down, were followed by a material setback all around.

Enlarged rural offerings weakened the corn market. Fine weather and the downturn in wheat had a similar influence. After opening 1/8c to 3/8c lower the market underwent a moderate additional sag.

Oats eased off with other grain. Most of the selling was from pit speculators.

Provisions declined after a little show of firmness at the start. The early bulge was due to transient support from packers.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular early today, with the trade evidently influenced by unsettled political conditions abroad. After opening at a decline of 7 to 8 points, prices steadied up to 12 cents for December and 12 1/2c for January, but the market soon weakened again under Liverpool selling, liquidation and local pressure with December selling back to 11 1/2c and January to 12 1/2c, or about 9 to 11 points under last night's closing figures. The more favorable weather reported in the south probably encouraged the selling, but the main factor appeared to be the foreign political news and trading was only moderately active.

Selling became much more active and general as prices worked off after the early bulge. The unsettling foreign political news seemed to come at a time when sentiment was already more or less nervous and the selling movement was also inspired by reports of increased southern hedging and talk of improving crop prospects in the southwest.

Lambs, $7.25 to $8.25.

EVENTS IN THE WAR ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

A Turco-Russian naval battle was reported off Odessa, Turkish torpedo boats bombarding the fort and sinking 3 Russian liners, 1 Russian gunboat and 1 French steamer.

Severe fighting everywhere, stubborn resistance and some British gains were reported by the Allies. Belgians drove the Germans from the lower Yser Valley by flooding it. Germans made advances at Rheims, the Meuse and in the Woyve district.

Germans repulsed a French attack at Verdun and made gains in the Argonne, Berlin stated. Heavy fighting continued in East Prussia and the Germans were retreating along the Vistula, Russia said. Indian troops joined the defense of Tsing-tau. Admiral Lord Fisher succeeded Prince Louis of Battenberg as Britain's first sea lord.
